BELLEFONTE, PA.,

Wednesday Morning, May 29th, 1872.

CONGRESS has been in session almost five months. It has done a great amount of hard work. It gave us free tea and coffee. The Act to be enforced from July 1st, 1872.

THE Pennsylvania division of the Grand Army of the Republic, will hold an encampment on the Gettysburg battle field, on the 2d, 3d and 4th days of July, under command of Gen. Mead.

A PROMINENT Western Democrat was recently asked if he would support Greeley. He said: "I would stoop a great way to conquer; but to stoop so far and get licked after all, wouldn't be agreeable."

"So you'll vote for Greeley, Paddy?" "Av coorse. Faith; isn't he an Irishman?" "But you've always been a Democrat!" "Devil a doubt o' that. And shure, can't I vote the Dimmicrathic ticket too?"

STATE FAIR.—The committee having the matter in charge have decided upon Erie as the place for holding the next annual exhibition of the State Agricultural Society, and September 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th as the time.

ALL the sanguine hopes of the British free trader to find a free market for the sale of his products of pauper labor, in this country are centred in Horace Greeley's election to the presidency. Men who have work and votes must not forget this fact.

THE Brookville Jeffersonian (Democratic) says: "We have not as yet seen a Democratic paper in this State which endorses the Cincinnati ticket. On the contrary, they all urge a straight out Democratic ticket. There is no mistaking the sentiment of the masses of the party on this question." Poor Greeley.

WE will have a United States Senator to elect in 1873, and it therefore becomes necessary to allow no dissentions in our own ranks that our enemies may be able to gain a vote in the United States Senate. Republicans can at once, see how necessary it is to sleep on their arms, as the issues of the coming contest are momentous.

WHERE a sorehead and office hunting Republican, says the Columbia Spy, leaves the party because his selfishness is not gratified, two Democrats join the party because it is patriotic and is giving the country years of such prosperity as we have never enjoyed before. We can afford to exchange office seekers for men who regard the solid interests of the country.

FOR some time certain newspapers have been industriously trying to manufacture a reputation for Charles R. Buckalew for honesty and fairness. A reference to his conduct in the Dechert-Tyndal and Gray-McClure contested election cases is enough to dispel such an illusion like sun desolves mist. The political history of the country presents no instance of more marked inconsistency and unfairness.

NOT HERE.—We want it distinctly understood, that there is not a single Greeley Republican in Centre county. We think we know. If there is one he is unknown to us. We have made dilligent search. They are not here. We have no Greeley men in the Republican party. Why should we? Horace has deserted his old friends. The Democrats and copperheads will of course go for him. Alas, poor Greeley.

THE wool clip in the United States during 1871 amounted to 177,000,000 lbs., placing us first upon the list of wool-producing countries in the world. England produced 159,969,000; Astralia, 152,600,000 pounds; La Plata, 138,070,000 pounds. Our wool clip of 1860 was only 60,264,914 pounds. We have, therefore, nearly trebled our annual wool product in eleven years. From the great increase in the number of sheep that has taken place within twelve months, we anticipate a still greater aggregate product in 1872. The control of a vast wool production has enabled our wool manufacturers to make this wonderful progress of the past five years.

A LIBERAL ATTACK.

We presume some well intentioned citizens throughout the country (there is none in Centre,) will support the liberal Republican movement. They have got an idea of reform in their heads, and without any clear understanding of just what reform they want, they follow blindly the lead of a few men, like A. K. McClure, who mean by reform, self-elevation, an opportunity to wield patronage—the destruction of the great party that has saved the nation's life, and that to day holds its liberties in self-keeping.

We beg these well intentioned citizens to pause before they join hands with their ancient enemies, and to examine the company they are sure to be found in, in this proclaimed opposition to the Republican party. To show how deep is the rebel venom that animates this opposition, and how low it already stoops in personalities, we clip from a liberal Republican paper published in Missouri. Speaking of Gen. Grant it say:

"He lied when he took charge of a Western corps, claiming competency to command them. He lied when he reported a victory; for nobody knew better than his soldiers that, when they were running for their lives, he was whipped. He lied when leading the two million army 'on to Richmond,' he asserted that he would 'fight it out on that line if it took all summer,' for the first move he made was to move off that line. He lied when he conducted negociations at Appomattox with the hero Lee: for he agreed to terms that have never yet been carried out. He lied when he said 'let us have peace;' for nothing in all God's wide universe was farther from his intentions, he having ever since prosecuted a bitter and relentless war on an unarmed people, who have been plundered by his Hessions and thieves. He lied, when he said he would have no policy in opposition to the wishes of the people; for he has pressed unnumbered vile and dastardly people condemned policies and schemes, for the oppression and robbery of his victims, for the aggrandisement of his poor, dirty kin, and for the acquisition of the Dominican horror and abomination. He lied, when he took the oath of office of President, and he has lied in every act since that time. He lied when after packing a convention of office holders to secure his renomination at all hazards, he informed some political 'spooks,' that he did not desire to press his claims for re-election. He lied when, playing the roll of sphynx, he attempted to leave the impression that he was a worldless philosopher; for at every whiskey shop in Galena or St. Louis, where he had any credit at all, he is known as a garrulous nincompoop. He lied, when he promised to pay his whiskey bills now ten years overdue at Galena. He lied, when after stealing $5,000 from the government, and gambling it off, he pretended that he had lost his vouchers and didn't know whether he owed the government anything or not. Yea, he is a liar of the most sublime degree. He not only lies, but rubs it in on himself, as the noses of dirty pups are used to wipe up a floor they have defiled. As a public and private liar, a wholesale and retail liar, a persistent and determined liar, we accord to no man, the devil, the dady of all lies and liars included, a more unenviable notoriety. And yet, if the counsels of run-or-bust Democratic lunatics prevail, this vile reptile is destined to sway the scepter of brutal dominion over the American Empire for five years to come.

What silly jargon! Yet this is a fair specimen of the liberal attacks which have been made, and will continue to be made on the illustrious man who led us through the darkest days of the rebellion, and who next to the immortal Lincoln, did more than any other man to save the republic from complete overthrow.

The Republican who can abandon his party, and knowingly support a cause that has such rebel slanderers in its ranks, must be lost to all sense of decency and patriotism.

If our party should be destroyed by this defection in our ranks, and herein, Republicans of Centre is food for thought, then our bloody war in defense of our Republic has been for daught.—Our soldier boys have died in vain. The battle will have to be fought over again, or the American people must be ready to submit to the rule of the very men who created and led on the rebellion.

Are the loyal citizens of America prepared for this? We believe not, and we look for an uprising of loyal sentiment, such as swept the country when our old flag went down over burning Sumpter. Republicans of Centre county, of Pennsylvania, awake, arouse, and prepare yourselves to do your whole duty, to your God, your country and yourselves.

A VOTE for the Republican State ticket is the sure way to Grant's success as the Republican candidate for president.

THE RIGHT RING.

We are glad to see that the Press has recently become magnanimous, and is prepared to yield personal preferences and feelings, to principle and the good of the Republican party in this State. We clip the following from the Press of the 20th inst. The italics are ours:

We do not believe that Billingfelt, of of Lancaster county, the late able and independent Republican State Senator, is willing to accept a nomination for Auditor General on the Democratic State ticket, to be nominated at Reading on the 30th inst. This great State of ours has submitted for nearly a generation to personal rule, to the ostracism or the debauchery of our best men. But we owe a higher allegiance. We owe fidelity to Principle, We owe gratitude to Grant. Before these every personal grief should yield.

In the above we find the advocacy of the right, and the only true policy that can govern any political party, and keep it in tact and efficient for good. Every political organization in order to command the respect and support of an intelligent people, must be founded on principle, and the advocates of a policy that will secure the faithful administration of public affairs in accordance with that principle. In the choice of sole representatives of the party, who are to be the executors of its policy and principles, personal preferences always manifest themselves. And as there are almost always more personal preferences than there are representatives needed, some must necessarily yield to those of others. Therefore when he who has a candidate, whom he would urge as the most fit exponent of the principles and policy of the party, and would be the most able executive of the same, and the party in regular convention choose another, then as a matter of course he must yield his personal preference. And as the candidate thus chosen, becomes the representative of the principles of the party, no one can array himself in hostility to the same without forgetting that higher allegiance that we owe; that fidelity to principle; that regard for the personal welfare, and our national prosperity, before which every personal grief should yield.

"FRIENDS of Mr. Greeley in Washington who profess to know his plans and purposes, assert with positiveness that he still adheres to his famous editorial published in the Tribune before the meeting of the Cincinnati Convention, in which he pledged the support of the Tribune to the nominee of the Philadelphia Convention, in case the Democratic Convention should make straight Democratic nominations. They assert that he never hesitated a moment in his purpose to withdraw his name in case the Democrats refuse to take him up."—Wash. dispatch to Springfield Republican.

Not a bit of it, Mr. Greeley will run regardless of the action at Baltimore, or the number of votes he will get. He has plenty of reasons—that is plenty for him. Having entered on the spree, he is bound to have it out. Besides, it suits his humor and gratifies his hate—motives which he finds actuates very few Republicans.—Pittsburg Com.

Yes! Mr. Greeley will run if he did not get one State or one vote in the Union. We do not know anything about the "spree" business; but we have reason to believe that the Democrats at Baltimore will endorse Horace, after which he may "spree" or not, just as he pleases, for Gen. Grant will walk over the course unmolested, a brave soldier and a sound statesman. We care not whether Greeley is endorsed by the Democrats or not, he is doomed and should know it. We pity Greeley. Why should a man at his age—a protectionist all his life—go back on his record now? We feel like Henry Clay, "We would rather be right than President." We think Greeley will learn.

QUEER.—The Democratic party is a queer party. It is just now seriously canvas-ing the question of endorsing the nomination of Horace Greeley. Let them go on. Horace summed up their sins, a short time ago, in the following, and does he not hit them?

"Of that Democracy which robs the effeminate Mexican of half his broad domains and regards with a covetous eye the last of declining Spain's valuable possessions—which plants its heel on the neck of the abject and powerless negro, and hurls its axe after the flying form of the plundered, homeless, and desolate Indian—may it be written on my grave that I never was a follower, and lived and died in nothing its debtor."

Notwithstanding all this, the Baltimore Democratic Convention will endorse Greeley. Anything to beat Grant is their motto. Let us get into power, they say, no matter if it is at a sacrifice of principle. Republicans of Centre will you be caught in this trap? Will you permit Horace Greeley and the Democrats to cheat you?

GEN. HARRISON ALLEN.

The East Brady Independent, a paper that is independent in politics pays the following handsome compliment to Gen. Allen, our nominee for Auditor General:

The name of General Harrison Allen, for three years a State Senator from the Warren district, is upon the Republican ticket for Auditor General. Gen. Allen is a personal friend, for whom we have a profound respect, and in whose ability we have the strongest confidence.

Gen. Allen is a self-made man. He has come right up from the ground—so to speak—from the ranks of the plow-boy and the lumberman—and by his own efforts taken a proud position among the representative men of the State,

He was among the first to respond at the call of his country for volunteers—And bravely he stood forth at the front until victory perched upon our banners and

"The red field was won."

The Philadelphia Press and a few other papers are opposed to his nomination, but in none of them is a single reason advanced why he should not be upon the ticket.

In our issue of the 20th ult., we took strong grounds against the ticket as put in nomination at Harrisburg. In this we were opposed to Gen. Hartranft's name, regarding the mode of placing him before the people as being wrong—in a word "a put up job." But the nonination of Gen. Allen was wholly different. His nomination was outside of the combination, and won by his own persistent efforts—and we believe, against the Ring men who run the machine.

His popularity was displayed when his nomination was made unanimous—and that of Hartranft only received the approval of his own delegates.

During his terms as member of the House and the Senate, Gen. Allen has proven himself an efficient member, and has taken a strong interest in the affairs of this region. By his attention to his duties and the prompt consideration of the wants of his constituents, he has made himself very popular with the masses, and his enemies are only found among those whom he has disappointed in securing honors which they could not reach.

Those who so sturdily denounce Gen. Allen are not true to the principles of the party to which they claim to belong. They rouse outside of its borders and only deplore his nomination, because it was the defeat of a well laid scheme to drive him to the wall.

He is thoroughly deserving of the support of the people. No charge of any kind lays at his door, save the hue and cry of his mongrel enemies, who grind their teeth in bitter disappointment at his triumph. He has been faithful in his aspirations actuated by true principle—that of advancing himself to prominance by his own unaided efforts.

He has hosts of friends at home—especially among the working classes, whom in many ways he has benefited, and his praises are heard from lips not given to flattery.

GERRIT SMITH.

The New York Republican State Convention, as our readers have already been informed, placed the veteran Gerritt Smith at the head of the delegation to the National Republican Convention, instructed for Grant. The sickness of his wife may prevent his attendance, and in order that there may be no vacancy in the delegation, he has addressed the following letter to his alternate, which shows how deeply he has the nomination of President Grant at heart:

BABYLON, Long Island, May 18.

President White—MY DEAR FRIEND: I see the great honor done me by the State Convention held at Elmira. Truly do I regard it as a great honor.

I am here with my sick wife and for several reasons it is quite doubtful whether I shall get to Philadelphia. You, my alternate, will, I trust, not fail to be there.

The country cannot yet afford to have the Democratic party come into power. But the success of either the Cincinnati or the Baltimore Conventions will be the success of that bad party.

The Philadelphia Convention will doubtless nominate President Grant. The anti-slavery battle is not yet fought out, and until it is we shall need Grant's continued leadership.

With great regard, yours,

GERRITT SMITH.

THE STACK-O'HARA CASE.

NO FINAL SETTLEMENT EFFECTED—EFFORTS BEING MADE FOR COMPROMISE

When the Supreme Court commenced its session in Harrisburgh, a large number were of the opinion that an immediate decision would be rendered in the Stack-O'Hara case, and the proceedings were carefully gleaned to obtain the result. Others labored under the impression that the injunction was wholly dissolved, and the Bishop sustained. The latter has been the popular belief outside of Williamsport, where no especial interest has been taken in reference to the case; besides, the premature publication of an article, stating that the Bishop had been successful, went far to fasten more firmly this belief. It now appears that the action of the Supreme Court in the case has had the effect of throwing the issue back into our County Court for cross-examination and re-argument. Father Stack, by properly notifying the Bishop, can at any time have the case brought up, but it is hoped wise counsellors in the matter will be able to effect a compromise, as we understand that the friends of both parties are earnestly working to bring about such a result, which would greatly benefit the church involved.—Gazette & Bulletin.

THE Western Celt likes Mr. Greeley well enough to endorse his nomination, but it cannot stand Governor Brown. In this week's issue it says of the latter gentleman: "He has shown himself to be a political weathercock, a trimmer, a huckster and to be utterly bankrupt of political honesty or sound principles.—The Irish-American citizens of St. Louis, and of nearly every town in Missouri, supported Brown, and contributed to swell his immense majority of forty-one thousand over his rival and in all respects superior, McClurg, at the last gubernatorial election. Notwithstanding the grand support and the handsome compliment extended by our nationality, B. Gratz Brown, he has acted towards them with unspeakable injustice, baseness and ingratitude. He has shown himself to be destitute of fine feeling, honesty and fair play in the matter. He has dismissed Irishmen whenever he had an opportunity, from every lucrative and honorable position in this State; and he has refused to appoint any one on any board or public body. The man Brown has in every instance discriminated against Irishmen and in favor of Germans. The Board of Police Commissioners is a case in point. That organization is composed exclusively of Americans and Germans, who are permitted by Brown to perpetrate the greatest injustice towards Irishmen on the police force. But we shall have other opportunities of exposing the pecadilloes and utter dishonesty, if not positive corruption of B. Gratz Brown.

FEDERAL patronage is to President Grant, as it has been to every one of our Presidents, a source of weakness instead of strength. It gave Mr. Lincoln more trouble than the entire conduct of the war. It alienated political friends and supporters, brought him weariness and trouble and vexation, and in the last year of his administration, the same as it has been to President Grant, a relentless and terrible opposition. The men who failed to get office from him, or contracts from his Secretaries, ran off to Cleveland and put candidates for the Presidency in the field. It is the old play, with pretty much the old actors. That it will come to the same ignominious end there can be little doubt. The great body of the people are simply amused by these exhibitions. They listen to the music and the oratory, and admire the fireworks, but when election day comes they turn away from the political quacks and mountebanks, and pay no attention whatever to them.

THE Democratic press of Pennsylvania do not go even one eye on Greeley, but are praying that a straight-out ticket will be given them. Whether their hopes will be gratified depends altogether on what Belmont and a few other leading fellows of the party are going to do about it. The general belief is that Horace cannot be greased for the July swallow by the trimmers of the party. How he will go down the diseased old throat of Southern Democracy remains to be seen; but will he not sicken the stomach?

WENDELL PHILIPS says: "I would prefer Grant to either Greeley or Adams. Greeley is not a whit better than Andrew Johnson. He is of about the same stripe, and his administration would not be a bit better."

—By the deepening of the Illinois canal, the Illinois river is receiving all the varieties of fish found in the great lakes.

—The new law in Massachusetts forbidding contracts with officers of cities has occasioned three resignations in Boston.

—The Russian government has projected extensive works for the manufacture of cannon and iron plating at Cronstadt.

The rice crop along the Lower Louisiana coasts is reported to be especially flourishing and the ratoon cane also promises well.

—Fish are said to be so thick in Clear Lake, Sonora, that it is only necessary to wade in and choose them, the chief difficulty being which to select. Decidedly fishy.

—Weak folks are sometimes very absurd. Spain is discussing the recovery of Gibraltar, and some papers are actually talking about what Mr. Greeley will do when he becomes President.

—The city debt of Chicago is now $19,931,040. When the Water Commission succeeds in saddling their "drives" and pleasure grounds on the taxpayers, Pittsburgh's debt will equal that.

—The Chamber of Commerce at New Haven, Conn., claims to be something of an historic relic. It was first organized in 1794, and numbers among its past members Noah Webster and Roger Sherman.

—The story of the treasure hidden by Captain Kidd has again been resuscitated. This time the excitement is at Elizabethport, N. J., where an oysterman believes he has discovered traces of a deposit of Spanish doubloons.

—A Massachussetts mechanic has invented a friction clutch for machinery capable of stopping forty horse-power. Patents have been secured in this country and England and have been applied for in Belgium and Germany.

—Absinthe, the bane of France, was first introduced to the French army in Algeria during Louis Philippe's reign. The troops were suffering from fever and took it as a substitute for quinine. Thence the custom spread to civil life to become the curse of a nation.

—North Carolina has an oldest citizen, aged 108. His mind is so sound that he recollects occurrences which other people have been studying the histories to find out about for three generations. The old fellow has eight children, the oldest 82 and the baby 67 years old.

—The Amnesty Bill. By the passage of the amnesty bill about one hundred and fifty thousand persons are relieved of disabilities. The list still remaining under disabilities number about one hundred and fifty. It embraces Jeff. Davis and many other prominent rebels.

—See what it is to have a good wife. During the recent illness of a western editor his better half, whose name is Leonora McGuiness, set the type, did press work, published every number of the paper in good shape, besides an extra issue followed by an announcement that mother and child were doing well.

—Considerable excitement prevails in the usually quiet little village of Tildea, Randolph county, Illinois, over the discovery of petroleum. It was struck while boring for water, at a depth of about ninety feet. A company is being formed to prosecute the work on a scientific basis.

—Active preparations are in progress in Philadelphia for the National Republican Convention. Horticultural Hall and the Academy of Music, each capable of accommodating five thousand people, have been secured for the meeting, and arrangements are now being made for the reception of the different distinguished characters and delegations which will attend.

PRAYER AND POTATOES.

[If a brother and sister go naked and destitute of daily food, and one of you say unto them, 'Depart ye in peace; be ye warmed and filled,' notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body, what doth it prout?—James ii, 15 16.]

An old lady sat in her old arm chair,
With wrinkled visage and disheveled hair,
And hunger-worn features.
For days and for weeks her only fare,
As she sat in her old arm chair,
Had been potatoes.

But now, now they were gone; of bad and good;
Not one was left for the old lady's food,
Of those potatoes;
And she sighed and said: "What shall I do?
Where shall I send, and to whom shall I go?
For more potatoes?"

And she thought of the deacon over the way,
The deacon so ready to worship and pray,
Whose cellar was full of potatoes,
She said, "I will send for the d acon to come;
He'll not much mind to give me some
Of such a store of potatoes."

And the deacon come over as fast as he could,
Thinking to do the old lady some good,
But never for once of potatoes.
He asked her at once what was her chief want,
And she, simple soul, expecting a grant,
Immediately answered "Potatoes."

But the deacon's religion didn't lie that way;
He was more accustomed to preach and pray
Than to give his hoarded potatoes.
So not hearing, of course, what the old lady said:
He arose to pray with uncovered head,
But she only thought of potatoes.

He prayed for patience, goodness and grace,
But when he prayed, "Lord, give her peace,
She audibly sighed, "Give potatoes."
And at the end of each prayer which he said,
He heard, or thought he heard in its stead,
That same request for potatoes.

Deacon was troubled—knew not what to do;
'Twas very embarrassing to have her act so,
And about those carnal potatoes.
So ending his prayers, he started for home;
The door closed behind, he heard a deep groan,
"O, give to the hungry po atoes!"

And the groan followed him all the way home,
In the midst of the night it haunted his room,
"O, give to the hungry potatoes!"
He could bear it no longer: arose and dressed,
From his well-filled cellar taking in haste
A bag of his best potatoes.

Again he went to the widow's lone hut;
Her sleepless eyes she had not yet shut,
But there she sat in her old arm chair,
With the same wan features, same wan air;
And entering in he poured on the floor
A bushel or more from his goodly store
Of choice potatoes.

The widow's heart leaped up for joy,
Her face was haggard and pale no more:
"Now," said the deacon, "shall we pray?
"Yes," said the widow, "now you may."
And he knelt him down on the sanded floor,
Where he had poured out his goodly store,
And such a prayer the deacon prayed,
As never before his lips essayed,
No longer embarrassed, but free and full
As poured out the voice of a liberal soul,
And the widow responded a loud "amen!"
But said no more of potatoes.

And would you hear this simple tale
Pray for the poor, and praying, prevail?
Then preface your prayer with alms and good deeds;
Search out the poor, their wants and their needs;
Pray for their peace and grace, spiritual food,
For wisdom and guidance, all these are good,
But don't forget the potatoes!

H. G.

WHAT HE KNOWS ABOUT EVERYTHING.

LONG JOHN WENTWORTH'S OPINION OF HIM IN SEPTEMBER LAST.

(From the Chicago Republican Before the Fire.)

A representative of the Republican armed with a step ladder, called at the Tremont House yesterday, his object being to interview Long John Wentworth upon the political questions, and especially upon Mr. Greeley, the Presidency, and the wool crop. Arriving at the Tremont, he was invited by Mr. Drake, the urbane proprietor, (whose excellent hotel can be written up in these columns for ten cents a line) to proceed to the parlor, Mr. Wentworth being seriously indisposed with an attack of lumbago.

"In that case," hazarded the reporter, "I should think he would keep to his room."

"He would, indeed, prefer it," replied Mr. Drake, "but having a stiff back, we are compeled to lay him out in a larger room. He reminds me of the Cardiff giant as seen through a microscope."

"But," said the representative of the Republican (which paper is delivered by carrier for fifteen cents a week), "how does Mr. Wentworth manage to sleep when he is well? You say his room is not large enough for him now."

"He sleeps," said Mr. Drake, "in coils,

LIKE A BOA CONSTRICTOR."

The conversation here terminated by the arrival of two distinguished visitors at the drawing room, entering which, Mr. Wentworth was seen on trestles, his head at some distance, supported by a mountain of pillows. A chain of bell-boys handed him cooling drinks, much as at rural fires people pass buckets from hand to hand from the horse pond up to the blazing building. The windows were darkened, and only an occasional murmured oath from the sufferer broke the stillness. Mr. Wentworth invited the reporter to be seated, when the following conversation ensued:

Reporter—Good morning, Mr. Wentworth. I regret to see you unwell.

Mr. Wentworth—Good morning, sir. Yes, I have been suffering from

SOME LINEAR FEET OF LUMBAGO,

but expect to be hearty again in a day or two. You come from—

R—From the Republican.

Mr. W—(with animation). Ah, the Republican, my favorite paper, and the spiciest journal in America. Its advertisements are excelled by none, and there is a genial rareness about its very commercial reports. The paper has attained, if you will allow me the expression, the very Hacksimum of success."

"A truce to compliments, Mr. Wentworth, however well the paper which I permit to employ me at an immense expense may deserve them. What do you think of Mr. Greeley?"

At these words a change overspread Mr. Wentworth's countenance, which grew dark with anger. Raising himself on his elbow with one prodigious effort he replied, although his frame was

RACKED WITH AGONY.

"D—n Mr. Greeley!"

The effort was too much, and he sank fainting on his couch. After some moments had elapsed, he resumed, in a voice of deep emotion.

"If there is in America a hell-hound, a slave, and a swindler, that hell-hound, that slave and that swindler is Horace Greeley!"

R—You astonish me, sir. I understood only a few days since that a banquet in this very hotel, where the bran bread sparled on the board and the milk toast circled merrily around, yourself and Mr. Grinnell nominated the Chappaqua mower and editor for the Presidency. Is it not true?

Mr. W—It is, unhappily, too true.

R—Then why this vigor of expression? Is it as the politician or agriculturist?

Mr. W—As both, of course. The man who

WOULD LIE TO A YAM,

or commit an assault upon a sheep, would make a worse President than Grant himself, and he is a bad one.

R—So Logan says, any way. I gather from your conversation that Mr. Greeley has disappointed you. In what respect, pray?

Mr. Wentworth then made the following statement, which we give verbatim, retrenching any vigorous redundances better suited for the columns of the Sunday Times than for our purer paper:

"A few days ago Mr. Greeley came to this city and was met at breakfast by myself and Grinnell. We paid for that hoary lunatic's oil cake—milk toast, I mean. His hack here didn't cost him a cent, and we thought ourselves reimbursed by his words of wisdom on the crisis and the crops. I shall allude by and by to his political ravings; just now I only refer to the farming phase of his insanity. I sat at that man's feet like Paul at the feet of Gamaliel. I acted on his theories, and in one short week I was

A RUINED MAN.

You ask me, how so? Go and look at Summit Farm; it looks like the alkaline desert, a howling wilderness, dotted with skeletons! 'Greeley,' said I 'what do you think of my Merino sheep? I have—that is, I had about two hundred of them, worth $175 apiece.' "Merino h—ll!" said Greeley, mildly; 'why the devil don't you cultivate silk-bearing sheep? Merino is played out. I have tried thousands of times to get my sheep to produce merino under-clothing; I have tried irrigating, mulching, top-dressing, sub-soil plowing, wood ashes, muck, loam, guano—all was of no avail. They will lay nothing but raw wool. Now, raw wool costs thirty cents a pound, and when to this you add interest, wages, insurance, manufacturing, bad debts, &c., you will see that you cannot compete in the breeding of Merino underwear with the pauper nations of Europe. On the other hand silk is heavily protected, and the production this year is limited.' In Assam the

CROP HAS PROVED A FAILURE,

owing to the frost, and the harvest will not yield more than thirty bushels to the acre. Silk will therefore advance in price. In 1842 you could buy a woolen dress for $3,50. In 1871 a silk dress costs $800. It stands to reason, therefore, that by making your sheep spawn silk, you will make 86 5-7 more profit.' I was thunderstruck with this and could only stammer "How?" The hoary headed fraud answered: 'By grafting, of course. Those sheep can spin cocoons, like silk worms, if they will only give their minds to it, and the man who denies it is a liar and a horse thief.' Little sheep that can spin and won't spin, must be made to spin. The fact is, Wentworth, you overfeed your sheep, and they never feel the spur of necessity. Vary their diet, give them no vegetable food, but give them, say a peck of silk worms a day, mixed with coloring matter, as cochineal, madder, indigo, lampblack, according to the hue of the silk which you want to rear. Food makes blood, blood makes life, and how can a merino sheep produce wool without life? how have life without food?

WHAT ARE WORDS

but food?" Sir, I was convinced of the correctness of the views held by this slovenly scoundrel. I went to Summit, and to sum it up I locked those devoted sheep up in a barn, gave them two hundred pecks of silk worms which cost me $60 a peck, and went away for a drive with Charley Farwell, my old friend, telling my farmer not to let the sheep out on any account. Political matters kept my mind so occupied for several days that I forgot all about the sheep, until yesterday, when what I had done flashed across my mind. I mounted my horse and spurred him like the wind to my farm, but was too late. When I got there the cupboard was bare. I'll be d—d, sir, if the sheep hadn't all died, and the worms had kept them company, and I was $57,000 out on the transaction. H—ll of a lot the venerable murderer knows about farming! Farm the devil's grandmother?"

Here Mr. Wentworth paused, overcome by his emotions, and it was some time ere he could proceed, in a broken voice, as follows:

"Misfortunes, d—n, never come singly. He had

BLIGHTED MY MUTTON CROP,

Now he went for my unoffending root crops. I had a field of potatoes—Hog-eyed Early Russets; there were nine hundred acres of them, producing 130 bushels to the acre, wort $117,000. Said that pensive old horse thief to me, 'John, we do not give our growing crops enough sunshine. Sunshine and air will be more effectual and less expensive than manure. Take my advice and dig up all your potatoes and plant them with the tops down. That's what we call crop dressing. Now, the potatoes being exposed to the beneficial influences of sun and wind will fatten earlier than by the old way. Besides, you can gather them more easily than if you had to dig them out of the ground, always remembering to leave one potato in each hill as a nest egg." Well, sir, I followed his advice implicitly. Of course, the crop is ruined; but, never mind, never mind."

"Those were, indeed, unpleasant experiments, Mr. Wentworth, but—

"But the half of it has not been told, my dear sir. I do not wish to inflict my grievances upon you.

THE FIENDISH MISCREANT,

Induced me, under fraudulent pretences, to buy a steam plow, and the throttle-valve got out of order, and, although my plowman told it to whoa, and gee and to haw, the d—n thing ran, end on, throu' the conservatory, went in the bay window, plowed a furrow two feet deep through the floor, and issued through the wall at the rear. The driver was killed and the house knocked down, and the infernal thing ran into the school house at Summit and exploded there. The sexton has been at work night and day getting up a stock of pony graves; but never mind, never mind. The end of it all, to make a long story short, is, that I am a ruined man."

"But Mr. Wentworth, the great and good Greeley is a man of warm heart and charitable impulses. Knowing himself to be the innocent cause of your misfortunes, he will doubtless come to your assistance, and you may be happy yet."

Mr. Wentworth smiled a bitter smile, and handed our reporter an open telegram, which read as follows.

OSHKOSH, WIS., Sept. 14, 1871.

"Lon John Wentworth, Chicago:

D—n you, take an eight cylinder press and go West. You don't plow deep enough. Get a few more wives.

HORACE GREELEY."

20 collect 190.

Our reporter read and copied the telegram; then amiably punching Mr. Wentworth with his pencil, said:

IN THE RIBS

"What do you think of Mr. Greeley's chances for the Presidency?"

Mr. Wentworth burst into a torrent of profanity of such violence that in three minutes the room was flooded the bell boys and reporter had to climb up on chairs and window seats to avoid being swept away.

"Greeley for the Presidency! The devil for the Presidency! Greeley President; the tow headed, chucklepated, mooning, free-loving, protectionist son of a pig metal foundry; that bland, muck-minded, cross between a yam and a cylinder press! Never, by the great jumping ten toed Jehosaphat, if I have to

KILL HIM MYSELF.

I'll bolt and run on the independent ticket if they do. Greeley—Oh, by all the angle worms in a compost heap, this is too much. [Here he rang the bell violently.] Greeley, the mulching muddle-head of Chappaqua, I'll—[here the bell boy entered.] Pistols, at once, and hot; do you hear?"

The boy answered: "Pistols, sir? Yes sir," and withdrew.

Our reporter, gathering from Mr. Wentworth's casual hints that he had nothing further to communicate, politely but firmly got out of the window and went down an awning post. He wishes some one would bring him out his hat, which he inadvertantly left behind him.

ARE YOU HAPPY?—Lord Byron said: "The mechanics and workmen who can maintain their families are, in my opinion, the happiest body of men. Poverty is wretchedness; but even poverty is, perhaps to be preferred to the heartless, unmeaning dissimulation of the higher order." Another says: "I have no propensity to envy any one, least of all the rich and great; but if disposed to this weakness, the subject of my weakness, would be a healthy young man in full possession of his strength and faculties, going forth in the morning to work for his wife and children, or bringing them home his wages at night."

—There never was a great man unless through divine inspiration.—Cicero.

COMETH A BLESSING DOWN.

Not to the man of dollars,
Not to the man of deeds,
Not to the man of cunning,
Not to the man of creeds.
Not the one whose passion
Is for a world's renown,
Not in a form of fashion,
Cometh a blessing down.

Not unto land's expansion,
Not to the miser's chest,
Not to the princely mansion,
Not to the blazoned crest,
Not to the sordid worldling,
Not to the knavish clown,
Not to the haughty tyrant,
Cometh a blessing down.

Not to the folly-blind
Not to the steeped in shame,
Not to the carnal-minded,
Not to unholy fame,
Not in neglect of duty.
Not in the monarch's crown,
Not in the smile of beauty,
Cometh a blessing down.

But to the one whose spirit
Yearns for the great and good;
Unto the one whose storehouse
Yielded the hungry food;
Unto the one who labors,
Fearless of foe or frown;
Unto the kindly-hearted,
Cometh a blessing down.

Heart Diseases—Facts and Figures.

The tendency of modern investigation into the influence of civilization on longevity seems to show a twofold series of agencies at work. On the one hand, sanitary improvements and the lessened mortality from epidemics undoubtedly tend to diminish the average death-rates but, on the other, there is practically much less improvement in total death-rates; than might be expected if these ameliorating causes were not counterbalanced by the icreasing fatality of other classes of diseases, such as diseases of the brain and hearts. It is important to recognize the precise facts. The excess may, probably, to some extent be regarded as an unavoidable result of the great mental strain and hurried excitement of these times, in which steam and electricity mark time for us in an overcrowded community, where competition is carried to the highest point, and where the struggle for existence, not to say for intellectual and other distinctions, is carried on with sleepless and exhausting energy. But an evil recognized is sometimes half cured; and the intellectual classes, looking at figures such as those which Dr. Quain has displayed at his interesting Lumleian lectures at the College of Physicians, on diseases of the walls of the heart, may well consider the propriety of attending to the hygiene of their lives, as well as of their houses; and to remember that, to enjoy and benefit by even pure air, soil and water, they must avoid disabling heart and brain by the incessant labors which too often make useful lives joyless, and embitter the harvesting of the crop which has been but too diligently sown. These warning figures tell that during the last twenty years, the total deaths of males at all ages from heart disease, has increased in number from 5,746, in 1851, to 12,428 in 1870. The percentage of deaths from heart disease for 1,000 of population living was 755 between the years 1851 and 1855; it has risen to 1,085 from 1866 to 1870. This increase, it must be observed, too, has taken place wholly in connection with the working years of active social life. There is no change in the percentage of deaths from this cause in males under twenty-five years of age Between twenty and forty five years of age, it has risen from 553 to 709, and almost exclusively in males. for there is almost no increases in the percentage of females dying from heart disease during the twenty-five years of life from 21 to 45. These figures convey their own lesson, and warn us to take a little more care, not to kill ourselves for the sake of living.—British and Medical Journal.

EXTRAORDINARY MEMORY.—It is related of Wiegis, a German violinist of New York, now dead, that his services were so valuable, that even when under the influence of too much beer, he would be found, dressed up, and when stationed in the orchestra, his violin put in his hand, would go through his part correctly. On one occasion, in the opera, (where he nearly always performed,) the score of an important opera was lost. What was to be done? The opera had to be played, but there was no score of the musicians. Wiegis said he could write it from memory. A large sum was offered him if he would.

He went home and wrote the whole opera from memory—the music for every part excepting his own, which he played from memory. The work was pronounced satisfactory, and paid for. Fearing, however, that Wiegis might be "missed" some evening, the leader requested him to write out his part.

"Ah! no, my friend," he would say, "I can ot do that, for when once you have my part written there will be no neccessity to keep me, and I shall lose my eng gement," So he never wrote it.

KEEP IT TO YOURSELF.—You have trouble; your feelings are injured, your husband is unkind, your wife frets your home is not pleasant, your brethren do not treat you just right, and things in general move unpleasantly

Well, what of it? Keep it to yourself. A mouldering fire can be found and extinguished; but when the coals are scattered who can pick them up? Fire brands when together can be trodden under foot, but when tied to the tails of Sampson's foxes it is difficult to tell where they will burn.

Bury your sorrow. The place for sad and disgusting things is under groundr Charity covereth a multitude of sins. Things thus covered are often cured, without a scar; but when they are once published and confided to medling friends, there is no end to the trouble they may cause.

Keep it to yourself. Troubles are transient, and when sorrow is healed and past, what a comfort it is to say. "No one ever knew it until all was over with."

—Incendiarism in Reading. The Reading Times says: "Since the first of January, 1860, ninety-eight fires have occurred in Reading, destroying considerably over five hundred thousand dollars' worth of property. Thirty-five of these fires, resulting in the destruction of nearly two hundred and fifty thousand dollars worth of property, have occurred since January 1st, 1872. It is safe to say that seventy-five per cent. of these fires is the work of incendarism.

REPUBLICAN STATE PLATFORM.

Below will be found the Resolutions adopted by the convention which placed in nomination Gen John F. Hartranft, Hon. Ulysses Mercur, Gen. Harrison Allen and the entire State Ticket. The Resolutions were written by that clear headed and efficient Republican—Russel Errett, Esq., and have the true ring. Republicans, workingmen and all honest Democrats, can safely stand upon this platform. Let them be carried out in good faith and there need be no fears entertained in regard to the salvation and perpetuity of the government either State or national:

1. That we reaffirm our devotion to the principles of the Republican party, and our belief that the continued existence of that party is necessary to the maintenance and success of those principles. The grand and fundamental idea of the equality of all men in political rights is not professed by any other party, and can be sustained faithfully only by those who are sincerely committed to it.

2. That the adoption of the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution of the United States has not been sufficiently acquiesced in by all to render certain and secure their permanent incorporation in that instrument, and hence the administration of the government can safely be entrusted only to that party which is heartily, and beyond question, committed to them, and the policy necessary to put them into successful operation.

3. That we are now, more than ever, called to sustain the policy of national protection to American industry. If the laborer is worthy of his hire, and a fair day's work entitles the worker to a fair day's pay, we must continue to throw the protecting arm of the government around those who toil for their daily bread. The protective policy alone makes labor contented and capital secure. It renders employment certain, and pay ample and satisfactory; while free trade means that our laborers and mechanics must either work for lower wages or that our factories should be closed through foreign competition, and the workingmen of the country deprived of employment.

4. That the public lands belong to the people, and should be reserved for the people. We, therefore, pronounce most decidedly against any further appropriation of the public lands in behalf of corporations or individuals. All lands not sold according to law should be open to preemption and actual settlement.

5. That we demand a continued adherence to the policy hitherto pursued, under Republican auspices, in our State and in the nation, of a steady and gradual reduction of the public debt. The interests of the people require that the most rigid economy should be practiced in the administration of both the Nation and the State governments, and that taxes should be reduced in both as rapidly as is consistent with the honorable maintenance of the public credit, and the certain extinguishment of all the public debt.

6. That we are earnestly in favor of the earliest possible removal of the duties on tea and coffee, and urge the prompt passage of the bill for that purpose now before Congress

7. That we heartily approve of the act of Gen. Grant in giving a trial to the plan of civil service reform. We demand that the plan, or any other that may be substituted in its place as better, shall have a fair and unembarrassed trial, that every effort shall be made to secure competent men for public service, and that honesty and incorruptibility shall be deemed qualifications as essential as competency and intelligence.

8. That the Republican party has given full evidence during the past eleven years of its ability to administer the government honestly, faithfully and successfully. It has, within that time, maintained the honor of our National flag at home and abroad; preserved the Union from disruption and restored it in its integrity; secured to all classes and conditions of men the rights given to them by their Maker, and having proclaimed liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof, has given to that proclamation the full effect to which it was entitled; and we therefore, in its name, claim from the people a continuance of their confidence, and fearlessly challenge their scrutiny into its acts.

9. That we point with pride to the record of Gen. Grant's administration of the National Government. Not only has the weight of internal taxation been almost wholly removed from the people's shoulders, but three hundred millions of the national debt have been paid off—a result never before attained by any other people under like circumstances, and for which we are indebted to the rigid honesty strict economy and sterling integrity which the President has brought to the administration of a national affairs.

10. That we present his name for renomination to the Presidency confident that the people will again rally to the support of the man who so nobly fought their battles; who, under the guidance through its struggle to maintain its existence, and who has since so successfully administered the affairs of the government as to command general admiration, at home and abroad.

11. That we will stand by the government in the foreign policy so firmly marked out and adhered to by President Grant. The honor of the nation, we feel, is safe in his hands, and the flag under which he never suffered defeat, will not be dishonored while he is kept in the front.

12. That we congratulate the people of Pennsylvania on the final accomplishment of the call for a convention to revise and amend the Constitution of the State and we earnestly urge upon our friends to see that delegates are chosen in their respective districts committed to the policy of incorporating in that instrument a clear and decisive prohibition of special legislation.

13 That we hereby declare our opposition to every effort to withdraw from the sinking fund of the Commonwealth, either by substitution, exchange or otherwise, any of the bonds, securities or moneys now pledged to it, and through it to the payment of the public debt of the Commonwealth, and our inflexible determination to preserve the same, inviolably, for the fulfillment of the Commonwealth's obligations.

14. That the oil producing, mining, lumbering and manufacturing interest of the State require protection from the efforts of dangerous combinations, and that such laws should be enacted by the General Assembly of this Commonwealth as will protect said interest, both in their development and the transportation of their productions to market.

15. That the thanks of our party are due to Governor John W. Geary, under whose lead our principles have twice been successfully vindicated in Pennsylvania; the State debt has been reduced during his administration; our soldiers orphans have been carefully cherished and educated; and our laws have been efficiently and wisely enforced. Under the necessity of parting with him as Governor, in conformity with the Constitution of the State, Governor Geary carries with him in his retirement the heartfelt wishes of its people for his future prosperity and happiness.

16 That we present with peculiar pride and especial confidence of their success, the names of Gen. John F. Hartranft for Governor, Ulysses Mercur for Supreme Judge, Gen. Harrison Allen for Auditor General, and the gentlemen this day named for delegates at large to the Constitutional Convention. They are all men worthy of an active and ardent support at the hands of the Republican party, and we call upon our friends throughout the State to rally as one man to secure their triumphant election.

17 That the President of this Convention, in connection with the candidates this day nominated for State officers appoint the chairman and one Secretary of the State Central Committee, and that the State Committee be made up on the basis adopted last year, and the two years preceeding.

IT is predicted that Lake Erie, now the pathway of mighty commerce, will in time dry up and become the home of a teeming population. Careful surveys have shown that while Lake Michigan has an average depth of 1,800 feet, Lake Superior of 900 feet and Lake Ontario of 500 feet, Lake Erie has an average depth of only 120 feet, which is said to be constantly decreasing. The bottom of the lake is quite level, and composed of soft clay. This clay is constantly accumulating from sediment carried down by tributary streams. The south shore is composed of easily disintegrating blue, gray and olive shoals and gray sandstone. The western and northern coast are made up of limestone of the Helderberg group, which quickly yields to the action of the waves. Consequently both shores constantly are contributing to fill up the bed of the lake. The work is not rapid, but it is said to be as certain as fate.

THE Bar Room Remedy for weakness of the stomach is a dose of Rum Bitters. They are surcharged with Fusel Oil, a deadly element, which is rendered more active by the pungent astringents with which it is combined. If your stomach is weak, or your liver or bowels disordered, tone, strengthen and regulate them with VINEGAR BITTERS, a pure "Vegetable Stomach Corrective and Aperient;" free from alcohol, and capable of infusing new vitality into your exhausted and disordered system.

WORKINGMEN.—We have a word for you. Do not be deceived. You hear now of strikes and of the independence of workingmen. You hear of labor reform candidates for President, for Governor, for Congress and for members of the Legislature. This is all humbug—a Democratic trick to cheat you out of the real and genuine rights and advantages which have been lavished upon you by the great Republican party.—Your interests are with and in the Republican party. Here you are safe.—Outside of this organization you have nothing to hope for. The Democratic party is disloyal, is in favor of British free trade, and, therefore, unworthy of your confidence. "A word to the wise, &c.

THE first to place President Grant in renomination, says the Pittsburg Times, are the workingmen of the country, which is unmistakable evidence of the sympathy of the toilers with the man who has stood their shield and buckler in war and in peace. There was a time, and that not very remote, when Horace Greeley was the admired of all who labor with their hands; but the ease with which he has adapted his life-long views of protection to American industry to those of an opposite character, has convinced the workingmen that there is no sincerity in the man, and that he would be a poor reliance in case of danger to the industry of the country. Out of two hundred and nine votes in the Workingman's National Convention, in which were represented thirty States, Grant had two hundred and four votes and Greeley only five.

COL. THOMAS SCOTT.

A cotemporary remarks that Colonel Scott "presides over twenty-six railroad corporations, from which he draws the handsome salary of $176,000 per annum, and yet he is not happy." He ought to be happy under these circumstances and must be an unreasonable man if he isn't. His happiness probably consists in the very turmoil incident to his situation. "He now aspires (says the Washington Republican) to the control of the great Erie road, and finds in the field against him his constant foe, John W. Garrett. The scene of the Battle between these two gentlemen is transferred from the committee rooms of the Capitol to Wall street, and instead of Senators and Representatives marshalled on opposing sides, we have immense railroad companies, millionaires and an army of bankers and brokers. The contest seems likely to be the greatest ever fought in the railroad world, and will command the attention not only of America but of Europe."

PRESIDENT GRANT.

LETTER FROM A BROTHER OF GEN. EWELL—WHY HE URGES VIRGINIA TO VOTE FOR THE RE-ELECTION OF GRANT.

Col. Benjamin S. Ewell, President of the College of William and Mary, Virginia, has written a letter strongly favoring the re-election of President Grant. He is a brother of the late gen. Ewell, and was Gen. Joe. E. Johnston' Adjutant-General during the rebellion. The following is his letter:

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., May 18, 1872.

To—— ——:

DEAR SIR: In compliance with your request I here repeat the substance of our conversation on the last, and approaching, Presidential elections, though I do not suppose my opinions on such subjects are worthy of attention or repetition. You expressed some astonishment when I informed you that in 1868 I was favorable to Gen. Grant's election to the Presidency of the United States, and was as decidedly in favor of his re-election. I will again give my reason for this preference.

It was my conviction, in 1868, that the election of a President, opposed by decided majorities of both Houses of Congress, would serve no purpose but to increase the ill-feeling and disquietude that followed a like condition of affairs during Mr. Johnson's Administration, and, perhaps, to pave the way for more serious disorders and uneasiness. It was also my conviction that an assured and peaceful Union was a necessity to the people of Virginia, and as much so to those of the other Southern States.—Whatever tended, directly or indirectly, to produce undue excitement, and thence possibly, revolution, I deprecated as the greatest evil that could befall this country, agreeing with Bulwer, that a "cause which the noblest allow to be good, and which, when successful, all time approves, may seem to justify the attempt at a revolution; yet recalling now all the evil passions it excites, all the ties it dissolves, all the blood it commands to flow, all the healthful industries it arrests, all the madmen it arms, all the victims that it dupes, I question whether one man really honest, pure and humane, who has once gone through such ordeal would ever hazzard it again, unless he was assured that victory was certain; aye, and the object for which he fights was not to be wrested from his hands amid the uproar of the elements that the battle has aroused." Then, too, I had implicit confidence in Gen. Grant's earnest wish, to "have peace," in his good-will, and in his patriotism. This confidence originated in the terms he gave at Appomattox Court-house to his great opponent and the battered remnant of that brave army that had staked its all upon a cause for which it was "no more to combat or to bleed," and that had so long resisted his legions. These terms, that "each officer and man will be allowed to return to his home, not to be disturbed by the United States authority so long as they observe their paroles and the laws in force where they reside," are without a precedent in the history of all such struggles for their liberality, and were as wise as liberal, for while they effectually terminated the contest they protected those who surrendered from the legal consequences of waging war against the Government, and probably saved from execution or imprisonment Lee and scores of his gallant associates.

The effect of these terms, as stated in Gen. Grant's report of the closing operation of the war, was "that Gen. Lee's great influence throughout the South caused his example to be followed, and, to-day, the result is that the armies lately under his leadership are at their homes desiring peace and quiet, and their arms are in the hands of our ordnance officers."

In the closing sentence of this report he pays to the Southern troops so lately in arms against his own the following tribute:

"Let them" (the Eastern and Western United States Armies) "hope for perpetual peace and harmony with that enemy whose manhood, however mistaken the cause, drew forth such herculean deeds of valor." A tribute most grateful to the devoted men composing the Southern armies, and most honorable to its author.

It seems to me that since the return of peace Gen. Grant's aim has been to relieve the Southern people to the extent of his ability, attempting nothing which the controling power of the North would not allow; and this was expedient as well as necessary. That he has not accomplished all that was hoped for or expected perhaps, is true; but it was simply impossible. His favorable and friendly report on the condition of the South, made as General commanding the armies of the United States, that excited the censure of some members of his own party, is an illustration.

The fact that "Virginians now rule Virginia" is one result of Gen. Grant's sympathy and good feeling for the State and people and his active interference in their behalf.

Virginia is the only State whose relations to the General Government have been renewed since he became the chief executive officer of the nation. Without his aid the people would not have been allowed to vote separately on the offensive and rejected articles of the present Constitution. The whole would have been adopted, and, as a necessary consequence, the State would to-day be no better off than the worst governed Southern State.

Looking at all this, I think I am right in asserting that Gen. Grant has done more to heal the wounds of war than any other one of the great political party to which he belongs. Believing this, I acknowledge it, and am ready and willing to show my appreciation and gratitude in any becoming manner.

There is a loud cry of corruption against the present Administration, but I have heard a like cry so long; it was louder in the days of Jackson, so much louder that my ears still ring with its echoes and so often—it is always the battle-cry of the "outs"—that I do not put full trust in it or pay much regard to it.

Of the reason you of the North have for supporting Gen. Grant perhaps I ought not to speak, yet I will say that if military success ever merited civil rewards, then is Gen. Grant entitled to all you can give.

Excepting the important victory at Gettysburg, he was the leader in almost every triumph of the Union arms. Fort Donelson, Vicksburg, with vast stores and upwards of 30,000 prisoners, Chattanooga and Missionary Ridge, and the finale at Appomattox Court-house, attest this. Though the end was reached by fearful losses, by the wearing out by attrition of the Southern armies, yet such losses were required to disorganize and overcome such armies. It was the only mode of ending the war, for had the morale and organization of the Confederate armies not thus been destroyed, war would now exist. That our country has been spared from such a continued calamity all should rejoice; and trusting I have not worn out your patience, I remain yours sincerely.

BENJ. S. EWELL.

JEFFERSON county shoemakers are a waxey set of fellows, judging by the following notification to walk to the Captain's office and settle: "I, B. Stumph, shoemaker of the borough of Punxsutawney, do hereby publicly proclaim that I will give all indebted to me, on book account and otherwise, from this date until the first day of June, A. D., 1872, to come and make settlement of their accounts, after which time I will proceed legally against all who owe me, be he a Democrat, a Republican or any other man. No lallygagging about this. I mean business."

IT is stated that there are received and kept regularly on file at the American Newspaper Advertising Agency of Geo. P. Rowell & Co., New York, no less than 582 different American Daily Newspapers, 56 tri-weeklies, 49 semi-weeklies, 4,662 weeklies, 8 semi-monthlies and 320 monthlies, making a weekly average of over 8,500 periodicals of all kinds which are regularly filed and kept open for inspection by advertisers and others who may be interested. The visitor to New York from Oregon, Texas, Florida or Maine, can find at this establishment the local paper published at his home.

GOOD ADVICE.—Don't be discouraged if occasionally you slip down by the way, and others tread on you a little. In other words, don't let a failure or two dishearten you; accidents will happen, and miscalculations will sometimes be made; things will turn out differently to our expectations, and we may be sufferers. It is worth while to remember that fortune is like the skies in the month of April, sometimes cloudy, and sometimes clear and favorable.

THE Cause of Temperance finds some of its most insidious and dangerous foes in the many so-called "tonics" and "appetizers," made of cheap whiskey and refuse liquors, finished up to suit depraved appetites, under the name of medicines. DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS are none of these. They are not a beverage, but a genuine medicine, purely vegetable, prepared from California herbs by a regular physician. For all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder, skin and blood, they are an infallible and unrivalled remedy. 18-4t

—The omission of the words "enacted by the General Assembly," in the preface to the stringent liquor law passed by the Ohio Legislature at its recent session has made the law inoperative; and while the radical temperance party mourns, the liberals and the topers rejoice.

REV. GEO. A. PELTZ, Secretary of the Pennsylvania State S. S. Association, is expected to be present throughout the County Sabbath School Convention in Milesburg. The Convention will open on Tuesday evening, June 4th.

Mechanism Of An Egg.

Every living creature is the product of an egg. Some are hatched within the maternal body, and develop into their predestined proportions after birth, which is the begining of existence with mammalia generally. Eggs of fishes are ordinarily incubated by solar warmith. Birds furnish heat necessary to quicken the germ into life from their own bodies, with a few exceptions.

Whether a rhinoceros, a hippopotamus, a giraffe, an elephant or a flea, their beginning is in an egg. The germ of the future being is fed on the fluids by which it is surrounded. Out of the albumen or the white of a common pullet's egg, for example, are built up a skeleton, a nervous system, a heart, lungs, brain, blood vessels, every muscle, and the elements of each individual feather, while the yolk is a magazine of food on which the chick is to be nourished a short time after it leaves the shell. To do that it is taken into the body of the bird in the course of incubation. Its enveloping membrane is elongated into a tube communicating with the stomach, through which the nutriment is conducted to where it can be used. When that supply is exhausted then the mother commences a regular system of nursing and feeding till grown and matured for providing for itself.

Billings On The Weather.

When roosters are observed before daylite in the morning, soreing amung the klouds and uttering lamenthsuns, then look out for sudden weather.

When you see 13 geese, walkin in jin file, and tocin in, yu kan delib erately bet yure last surviving dollar on a hard winter, and a great fluc uousness during the next season in cow hide boots.

When spiders are seen climing up the wall backwards, and frogs cough az tho they had the hickups luk out for rain; this is also a shure sine that children will have the measles light.

If bees hang around their hives, and mules are seen in a brown study, a storm uv sum kind iz kookin, and yu will notis the market for shad iz very shifty.

Jist before a heavy sno storm ov 3 foot deep, chimbly swallows are unkommon skarse and in the moral world there iz a great lazyness in the agytashun ov the temperance question.

If pigs squeal in the night, and grasshoppers come oph ov their roost, and mingle in a free fight, yu may hope for high winds in a few weeks, and the typhus fever in yure nabor hood.

DRY CLOUDS.—Two boys among the blackberry bushes, some mile or two out of town, saw a cloud rising, and heard a sound like thunder. One, who was a little timid, said to the other. "Come, Fred, let's go home—it thunders." The other, not wishing to return home so soon, denied that it thundered at all. Directly a rumbling noise was again borne on the freshing breeze. "What's that, then?" inquired the other. "Why, don't you know what that is? If you don't, I'll tell you. You know it has been dry weather for a long time. What clouds there are floating about are as dry as old sheepskins, and when the wind blows it rattles them."

Salutations.

In the east the people are pastoral, unwarlike, fond of quiet, and are also encircled by religious ideas. We see this in the simple meeting of two persons in the street. They convey, in the form of prayer, an earnest wish that the other may enjoy peace. Throughout the Bible this blessing forms the staple of salutation.

Salem or Shalum means peace, and is doubtless the meaning of the word Jerusalem. The Bedouins of our time have the same idea embodied in their salutation. The Arab meets his friend with this, "May God grant you His favors." The difference here is very considerable, according to, the rank of the person saluted. The most common mode is merely laying the right hand on the bosom, and declining their bodies a little; but when to a person of great rank, they bow almost to the ground, and kiss the hem of his garment. Inferiors, out of deference and respect, kiss the feet, the knees, or the garments of their superiors.

The dominant trait in the character of the Ottoman is known to be great pride, much gravity, and apparently a considerable distaste to the use of his tongue in speech. It will be noticed in many of his sayings that those three are often unfolded. "May you shadow never be less," shows how they value flesh.

In Egypt the climate is so vere warm and feverish, and perspiration is so very necessary to health, than an Egyptian greeting is "How do you perspire?" According to Herodotus, the Egyptian saluted by letting the hand fall to the knee, unlike any other nation.

The Laplanders apply their nose strongly against that of the person they salute. Dampire says that a New Guinea they are satisfied to put on their heads the leaves of trees which have ever passed for symbols of friendship and peace.

The Spaniard wishes you "Good morning." "God be with you, senor."

The Neapolitian devoutly says, "Grow in sanctity."

The Piedmontee, I am your servant."

The Genoese of modern times says, "Health and wealth."

The Romans have energetic salutations, expressing force, "Be strong," "Be healthy."

"Have you eaten?"

The German says, "How goes it?" To bid adieu he says, "Live quiet and be happy."

The islanders—near the Philippines—take the hand or foot of him they salute, and with it they gently rub the face.

The Pole embraces the knee, kisses the shoulder, and on departure says, "Be ever well."

In Hungary they say at departure, "God keep you well."

In Servia they say, "How are acorns?"

"Are acorns plenty?" they being a pastoral people.

The Hindoo bends the head to the earth.

In Sweden, besides the uinversal "Good day," they ask, "Are you strong and vigorous?"

The Moors of Morocco ride at full speed toward a stranger, as if to run him down; and as soon as they have approached near they stop suddenty and fire a pistol over his head.

The manner of saluting the Great Mogul is to touch with the hand, first the earth, then the breast, and then to lift it above, which is repeated three times in succession as you approach him.

WHEN WHEAT SHOULD BE CUT—There has been some diversity of opinion as to the best time to cut wheat, judging from the common practice of farmers. It is generally cut when dead ripe, or at least when the grain has become hard. This is no doubt an error, and one of more importance than many suppose. It should be remembered that wheat is composed of gluten, starch and bran. Gluten is the nourishing quality of the grain, makes the flour stick together in the hands of the baker, and gives weight to the grain—and there is the greatest quantity of gluten in the grain just when the straw is yellow two or three joints from the ground, the head turns downward, and you can mash a grain between your thumb and finger without producing any milk. It may therefore be set down as an indisputable truth that every day the wheat stands after this stage of its ripeness, the gluten decreases in in quantity and the bran increases in thickness.

We give these facts in time that the farmer can take advantage of them the present season.—Germantown Telegraph.

Hoofland's German Bitters.

A Bitters without Alcohol or Spirits of any kind.

Is different from all others. It is composed of the pure Juices, or VITAL PRINCIPLE OF ROOTS, HERBS, and BARKS, (or, as medicinally termed, Extracts,) the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medicinal virtue as will be found in several gallons or ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, when they compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others: no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use, they cannot make drunkards, and cannot under any circumstances, have any but a beneficial effect.

Hoofland's German Tonic.

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each bottle of the tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the bitters is overcome forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasent to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1,50 per Bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article? A medicinal preparation should contain none but the best ingredients; and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefittad by it, will most certainly be cheated.

Who would ask for more Dignified or Stronger Testimony?

HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, formerly Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania at present Member of Congress from Pennsylvania, writes:

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1871.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in case of debility and want of nervous action in the system. Yours truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

HON, JAS. THOMPSON, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania,

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1867.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my own experience of it.
Yours, with respect, JAS. THOMPSON.

HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1868.

I have found by experience that "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a very good tonic, relieving dyspeptic symptoms almost directly.
GEORGE SHARSWOOD

HON. JAS. M. WOOD, Ex-Mayor of Williamsport, Pa.

I take great pleasure in recommending "Hoofland's German Tonic" to any one who may be afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so badly it was impossible to keep any food on my stomach, and I became so weak, as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic effected a perfect cure. JAMES M. REMEMBER

THAT

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES

Are the medicines you require to purify the Blood, excite the torpid Liver to healthy action, and to enable you to pass safely through any hardships or exposure.

DR. HOOFLAND'S PODOPHYLLIN,

Or Substitue for Mercury Pills.

TWO PILLS A DOSE.

The Most Powerful, Yet Innocent Vegetable Cathartic Known.

It is not necessary to take a handful of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleaning it specily from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases, in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL.

In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, REGULATES the Liver, and gives strength, energy and vigor.

Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no disease can retain its hold, or ever assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by Express to any locality, upon application to the PRINCIPAL OFFICE, at the GERMAN MEDICINE STORE, 631 Arch St., Philadelphia.

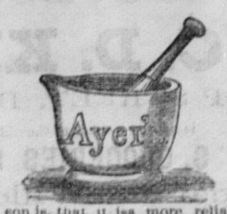
Aver's Cathartic Pills

For all the Purpose of a Laxative medicine.



Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use in every county and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill.—The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them: those who have not, knows that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterous drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal vicers to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions from the stomach' bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, BILLIOUS HEADACHE, SICK HEADACHE, JAUNDICE or GREEN SICKNESS, BILLIOUS COLIC and BILLIOUS FEVERS, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back or Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For DROPSY and DROPSICAL SWELLINGS they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a DINNER PILL, take one or two PILLS to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these PILLS makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES.

A POLITICAL, LITERARY AND MISCELLANEOUS NEWSPAPER.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES.—started in September, 1851,—has for many years been recognized as among the most successful, popular, and influential newspapers in the country. Its proprietors, with greatly increased resources and experience, will spare no pains to extend and strengthen its claims upon the confidence and support of the public.

The TIMES is a Republican journal, and will be devoted, as in the past, to an intelligent and firm support of the Republican Party. It will sustain, with all its ability, the principles and policy which have rendered the party so justly famous in our history. It will advocate those measures by which the honor, the peace and the prosperity of the nation can be best conserved and promoted. It will vindicate our dignity before foreign nations, and will discountenance aught by which our self respect or our love for republican institutions could be endangered.

The TIMES desires to be judged by the highest possible standard of journalism. Its EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT will be conducted in a spirit of fairness and impartiality, free alike from personal rancor or undue favoritism; and will be the production of the ablest and most experienced writers upon all the subjects treated. Its CORRESPONDENCE will be full and timely. Its REPORTS will be prepared with the utmost care, and will embrace every fact or public expression of opinion that possesses interest and importance. The LITERARY DEPARTMENT will be in thoroughly capable hands, and will present a full review of the literature, the fine arts, the music, and the drama of the day.

As a family paper, free from all appeals to vulgar or impure tastes, the TIMES will continue unexceptionable, and may be safely admitted to every domestic circle.

The Sunday edition of the TIMES will include, in addition to all the news selected and original literary matter of the most varied and agreeable character Special arrangements have been made to impart new attractions to this feature of the paper.

The WEEKLY and SEMI-WEEKLY editions of the TIMES will be compiled with the greatest care, and will contain selections from the most important contents of the Daily issue, besides matters of interest to the agricultural sections of the country. All who prefer a newspaper but once or twice a week will find these editions admirably suited to their requirements.

A special edition of the TIMES for EUROPEAN circulation will be published every Wednesday and Saturday, in time for the European mails, and will be valuable and welcome to our friends abroad, whether Americans or of any nationality than our own.

All these editions of the TIMES are of the very largest size, on large quarter sheets, each containing fifty-six columns printed in clear and legible type, at the following rates.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

We would call the special attention of postmasters and our subscribers to the following synopsis of the newspaper laws:

1. A postmaster is required to give notice by letter, (returning a paper does not answer the law,) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office, and state the reasons for its not being taken; and a neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publishers for is payment.

2. Any person who takes a paper from the post-office, whether directed to his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, its reponsible for the payment.

3. If a person orders his paper to be discontinued, he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether it be taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until the payment is made.

4. If the subscriber orders the paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it. If he takes it out of the post-office. The law proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima-facie evidence of intentional fraud

In addition to a large stock on hand, he is also prepared to make to order where the eyes are very difficult to suit.

STATE SABBATH SCHOOL CONVENTION.—The Pennsylvania S. S. Association will meet at Pittsburg on Tuesday, June 11th, 1872, at 2 o'clock, P. M., and will continue in session through the two days next ensuing. The meeting will be held in the Third Presbyterian Church. We have received a circular, from which we glean the following: "All persons who may be appointed by any Sunday School Association, and who may present credentials to that effect, are delegates and entitled to all the rights and privileges of the Convention. The Penna. Central Railroad, with the Phila. and Erie, and all branches of these roads, will sell round-trip tickets to Pittsburgh, at excursion rates, two cents per mile." The circular adds, "Let there be a grand rally of all the Sunday School workers in the State." So we say.

THE WATER QUESTION.—The people of Bellefonte, with one of the most beautiful springs in the world, are still enquiring about water. It is not the fault of the Town Council nor is it the fault of their Superintendent—Cyrus Strickland. This water question is a great question. People will not do without water. Let us have water. Every thing has been done by the Council that could be done, and the works are throwing up water sufficient to supply the town. We have made up our mind from the facts that the supply of water is as great as it ever was. It is forced into the reservoir. We saw it, and we know whereof we affirm. The difficulty is in the pipes. Dig them up. Stop the leaks, and we will have a full supply of water. It is worse than folly to blame the Town Council or the Superintendent. But we want water. It is a great question. Its lack has, in times of war, compelled the surrender of populous, well fortified and bravely defended cities. Good water—what a blessing it is. It serves an important purpose in all the relations of life. It cools the fevered brow and slakes the burning thirst of the sick, invigorates the strong armed laborer as he toils in the heat of noonday. It purges away the impurities (under the management of Capt. Runkle) of our streets and renders healthful the atmosphere. A thousand services are performed by this kind agent that so constantly is appealed to in behalf of human need. It is known that Solomon projected and completed vast works designed to furnish his favored Capitol with an unfailing supply of water. He was a wise man. But our Town Council is determined not to be outdone or surpassed in regard to the water supply. A little patience will make everything right. John T. Packer has contracted to put in a new wheel, and this, when the leaks are stopped, will give Bellefonte an abundance of water.

EXCITEMENT.—Early on Tuesday morning last the most intense excitement prevailed in Milesburg, or Central City. People were seen flocking in the direction of the Pa. Depot, and when the cause was ascertained every person felt relieved. Trains containing Barnum's great show were approaching. One train contained sixty-four cars, propelled by three engines, and another containing forty two cars drawn by two engines. It was a magnificent sight. Barnum may or may not be a humbug. This the people who visited his show in Lock Haven can decide for themselves; but we think it does not pay. That is it may pay Barnum but it does not pay the American people. Barnum's great Book on American Humbugs ought to teach our people a lesson. But will they learn? It is our opinion that Barnum's show is about as big a humbug as as his book. Let him go on, we have no objections. He desires to make money. Let him make it. But he will get none of ours.

WHEAT.—Foster Tate, one of Benner township's scientific farmers, brought to our office on the 20th inst., a bundle of wheat heads, each head measuring three inches in length. He informed us that he had a field of 12 acres of the same kind, beautiful and uniform all over the field. This wheat is known by the name of the "Golden Sunflower," and comes to perfection about the third or fourth week in June. It is so early and strong that the midge or the fly does not injure it. At least this is its correct history in this climate. It is a superior wheat, weighing from 60 to 68 lbs. to the bushel. It is Mr. Tate's intention to keep this wheat for seed. We think the farmers of the country would do well to make a note of this and send in their orders to Mr. Tate for seed wheat.

MILK.—The greatest blessing in the world is pure water—next, pure milk; but we never need the water and milk mixed. Christian Baumgardner and wife, who live on the farm of E C. Humes, Esq., near Pleasant Gap, are now supplying the town with the pure lacteal fluid. There is no water in this milk. Mrs. Baumgardner comes every morning regularly, and the milk recommends itself, The people of Bellefonte should, if they want pure milk, watch for the wagon of Mrs. Baumgardner.

CONRAD HOUSE.—The House, under the supervision of Harry Kline, is a success. Harry keeps a good house, has a regular license, and knows just how to do it. The Conrad House Saloon is one of the best in town, and it is a notorious fact that Harry, while he keeps the best of everything, never sells liquor to minors or men of intemperate habits. He keeps a good house, is putting up a good stable, and is, therefore, prepared to accommodate the public.

PARK.—Bellefonte will soon have a Park. It is fenced in. It is too late to plant the trees this spring. Evergreens might be planted—indeed it is just the season to plant them. The new fence is a good one, built by C. W. Lambert, proprietor, of the Sunny Side Gardens. When the Park is completed it will be a great place of resort, an honor to D. G. Bush and his enterprise. He has done much to beautify and build up our town.

POTTER TOWNSHIP ITEMS.—We are indebted to our correspondent "W" for the following items of news from Potter township. Why is it that we cannot have a reporter in every twp. in the county? Speaking of Potter's Mills our reporter says:—There is more business done at this place, for the size of it, than at any place in the county. There are two good stores, woolen factory, flouring mill, saw mill, and several mechanics of different kinds.

—We support 2 large steam engines, viz: One used to run the woolen factory of Messrs. Boozer & Evans, whose business qualities are first-class as every one knows that has dealt with them.—For honesty and fair dealing they have no superiors. They manufacture the woolen goods and make the best carpet in the country.

A word for the hands in their employ. No better set of men can be found in one establishment in the whole country. They are all solid for Grant. This is one of their good qualities.

—Messrs. Thompson & Bro. have a large engine connected with their flouring mill, which they are running to its utmost capacity. I need not say anything about them, as every one knows that they are good business men.

—Some excitement has been created here by the discovery of coal in the mountains near Hessick's, also near Thompson & Bro's farm in the Loop.—Specimens of the coal can be seen here.

—The Eutaw House under the supervision of that prince of landlord's, M. L. Leitzel, has a good supply of boarders and a good run of transient custom. One important help to the House is, that he always keeps good cooks and sets a magnificent table. Martin is a first-class man and understands his business.

—The nearest thing to an excitement that we have had since the tobacco stealing, was an attempt to burn the saw mill of Messrs. Thompson & Bro., by some rascal who seems to delight in working miracles of this kind under cover of darkness. It matters not who he is, he should be driven out of the country. He had better carry himself straight or he might be made to suffer the full punishment of his crimes. We think we know him. The alarm of fire was given—not by fire-bells—but by the vocal organs and by the triangle of our mutual friend Leitzel of the Eutaw House. We have to get our fire company under better discipline. Some of the lower end of town inhabitants tho't it was ascrenading party.

Mart and the Doctor were at the fire in about 4½ seconds after the alarm was given. Great credit must be given to Mart for the way in which he handled the triangle. The alarm having been given, it was immediately responded to by men, women, children and Doctors, who might have been seen going at a break-neck speed armed with buckets, &c. Fortunately the fire was put out before doing much damage. In a few seconds more it would have been under full headway, as everything was dry and in the best order for a fire. "Bully" was on the ground in time, and, with a bucket, threw water like a four-horse engine. Its speedy extinguishment was due his indomitable energy and perseverance. Fires are as rare here as Greely men.

—The Singing School under the auspices of the M. E. Church, conducted by that prince of singers, Mr. Samuel Farner, still continues to discourse its sweet music every Saturday evening, in the new and beautiful M. E. Church.—We think that churches and Sabbath Schools are rare that will excel this one in musical talent. All they want to complete their church, is an organ and a bell.

—The weather is beginning to make a person feel like going to Messrs. Brisbin & Co's to partake of a dish of their excellent ice cream. Belle knows how to make it. Of course she does.

MEMORIAL CEREMONIES.

MAY 30, 1872.

TUNE—OLD HUNDRED.

Blest are the martyred dead who lie
In holy graves for freedom won,
Whose storied deeds shall never die,
While coming years their circles run.

Blest be the ground where heroes sleep,
And blest the flag that o'er them waves,
Its radient stars their watch shall keep,
And bright'ning beam on hallowed graves.

While Freedom lives, their fame shall live
In Glory on her blazing scroll,
And love her sacrifice shall give.
While anthems round the altar roll.

Year after year our hands shall bear
Immortal flowers in vernal bloom,
Till God shall call us home to share
Immortal life beyond the tomb.

WE have often wondered whether there is a person in all New England, who does not know and appreciate the value of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment as a family medicine? It is adapted to most all purposes, and is the best pain killer that can be used.

Farmers and stock raisers have frequently told us that they have seen very good results from giving Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders to cows and swine before and after they drop their young. The powders put them in good condition and give them strength to care and provide for the sucklings.

THE name of Senator Scott has been favorably mentioned in connection with the Vice Presidency.

HONOR THE BRAVE.

AN ODE FOR DECORATION DAY.

Strew flowers, fresh flowers, on the soldiers' graves;
Hang chaplet and wreath o'er the tombs of the braves.

Come garden and field, come mountain and glen
Yield ye your treasures to honor the men.
Who make your bright flowers more sweetly to blow;
For now in the land of the free they grow.

Come, gentle fingers, twine bud, leaf and flower,
Not to adorn you, not for love's bower;
Come twine them for heroes departed,
With smiles for the glory they gained;
With tears for the loss ye sustained;
Weave evergreens, for the brave-hearted.

O comrade, survivor of battle and storm,
Who midst bullet and shell didst pass safe from harm,
Or bearest the marks of the fray on thy form,
Come, strew these bright tributes of love for the dead,
For with you they fought, and with you they bled.

O, country, drenched in heroes' blood,
Who, round thee, like a rampart stood,
"A living wall, a human wood—"
Honor the brave.
Recount anew each mighty deed,
Full well deserve they highest meed
Of glory, from the land they freed,
And died to save.

Come then citizens, visit their resting place;
Crowd round their toombs in solemn array;
With evergreen wreaths, the pale marble inverting,
Place beautiful flowers above their cold clay.

"Who are these soldiers whose graves we should honor?
What have they done for us, that they should claim
Tributes of love from us? What have they won, or
What have they saved, to procure them such fame?"

They are fathers, brothers, sons,
Our own loving, loved ones.
From our embraces, from the home shelter,
Leaving their children, their wives, and their all—
On to the battle field, in blood to welter,
Promptly they answered their country's first call.

No foreign hirelings fighting for gold,
No slaves of a tyrant cruel and bold;
Liberty's freemen, America's glory,
With sword and with rifle, wrote they their story.

When base traitors blustered,
And muttered with foul mouths their ruinous treason,
'Twas our heroes mustered,
And brought them with bullet to duty and reason.

Then honor the brave,
With a wreath of fresh flowers and a tear o'er each grave;
For must we not say,
That, because they went forth, our country to save,
We are free to-day

HARDWARE.—It is a notorious fact that Wilson & Hicks cannot be surpassed in Central Penna. in the Hardware business. They have a splendid room and is filled with everything farmers or builders need. Jno. Irwin, jr., retired from this firm a few months since. His interest was purchased by Mr. Hicks, and it is, therefore, now Wilson & Hicks. Mr. Wilson is well known to our people. He needs no encomiums from us. Mr. Hicks is not so well known; but he is in a fair way to make himself honorably known. We welcome him to our city Such men are an honor to any town. He has been in the Hardware business for years with the Biddle Hardware Co., the largest concern of the kind in Pennsylvania. His knowledge of the business and his connection with this great firm enables him to purchase goods to great advantage. Of this knowledge Wilson & Hicks propose to give the people of Centre County the benefit. They have a fine assortment of ladies steel flower sets for working around flowers, and they also have, now since the flies are coming, a line of wire dish covers, the best we have ever seen, and which bids defiance to flies. Why should we be annoyed by these pests, when Wilson & Hicks are prepared to furnish us with a remedy.

For the REPUBLICAN.

CUT WORMS.—The following simple remedy against these pests of newly planted cornfields, has been tried and found efficacious:—Strew over the ground in places infected by the cut-worms, the leaves and herbage of the common May Apple. This is a plant abundantly found in damp woods in all sections of the country. The cut-worm will leave the corn and attack the May Apple leaves, which, however, are poisonous to them, and will destroy them. If the leaves are examined a few days after they have been scattered over the field, the cut-worms will be found under them bloated with poison. The leaves should be applied in the evening, that they may be as fresh as possible for the worms, which it is well known eat only at night. May-apple leaves will protect gardens, &c., as well as cornfields, from the ravages of the cut-worm.

ROOFING.—Messrs. Wetzle & Twitmire are agents for Centre and Clearfield counties for the sale of Asbesto's roofing. It is the cheapest and most durable roof known to the science, and on account of its cheapness (10 cts a square foot) all farmers should turn their attention to it and give it some thought. It will last a life time and save more than double its cost by keeping grain, hay, &c., dry. Messrs. Wetzle & Twitmire are reliable men, and can always be seen at their Tin, Stove and Sheet-iron Store, opposite the Bush House.

HEADQUARTES GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, NEW YORK, Apr. 30, '72.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 20.—In accordance with the Rules and Regulations, the 30th day of May next will be observed as Decoration Day, by all Posts of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the customary honors will be paid to the memory of our dead comrades.

Posts are recommended to invite the unanimous co-operation of comrades not members of the Grand Army, and of all citizens who wish to join in these Memorial Services.

In addition to the custom of strewing the graves with flowers, it is suggested that they be planted with flowers and shrubs, so that, when we are gone, the Seasons in their ceaseless round may, in our stead, adorn the sleeping places of our comrades.

By order of A. E. BURNSIDE,
Commander-in-chief.
ROSWELL MILLER,
Assist. Adjutant General.

POST BAYARD, No. 90, G. A. R.,
DEPARTMENT OF PENN'A.
BELLEFONTE, May 22, 1872.

In accordance with the above recommendation from Headquarters, the honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of Centre county, the teachers and scholars of Sabbath and other Schools, and the public generally, are hereby cordially invited to join with us in paying the usual tribute of respect to the memory of our deceased comrades. It is intended to decorate all soldiers' graves within our lines.

At Boalsburgh the Memorial Services will be in charge of Col. Stewart.

At Milesburg of Col. Greeno.

At Unionville of Capt Van Valin.

At Centre Hall, of Lieut. S. S. Wolf.

At other points, where no members of the Post reside, this duty is respectfully committed to the returned soldiers of such localities, together with the Teachers and Scholars of Sabbath and other schools, and all good citizens generally.

It is earnestly hoped that on Thursday May 30th 1872, there will not be a single soldier's grave within the bounds of Centre county unattended to or neglected.

By order of WM. H. BLAIR,
Post Commander.
ISAAC LYTLE,
Post Adjutant.

"SOLD."

BY BECKIE F. CANAN.

In a mansion fair and stately,
'Neath a shower of golden light,
'Mid the glimmer of pearl and satin,
Is a maiden sold to-night.

Sold for laces and diamonds,
For yellow, glittering gold,
For the homage of liveried servants,
For wealth and station sold.

Too dear for the sad eyed maiden,
To pamper a sinful pride,
And far too dear for the victim,
To pay for a loveless bride.

Below in the brilliant parlors
Are the gay, expectant throng,
And the balmy air is ringing,
With the mirth of jest and song.

Above, in a darkened chamber,
The white-robed maiden stands,
A crumpled, tear-stained letter,
Clasped in her jeweled hands.

Her heart away o'er the meadows,
Held in the warm embrace,
Of the noble, toil-worn lover,
With sunburnt hands and face.

And the sheen of the pearly satin,
That drapes her form so slight,
Binds in its glossy foldings,
An aching heart to-night.

And angels weep, as the mother
Weeps for her infant dead;
While the frown of an Allwise Father,
Rests on the fair young head.

* * * * * * * *

Down 'mid the crowd so brilliant,
'Neath the shower of golden light,
For the glare of pearls and laces,
She sold herself to-night.

Boldly she came to the altar,
Of truthful innocence stript,
'Neath the gaze of the great Omniscient
With a lie on her trembling lips.

And e'en 'mid the sweet, glad music,
That rings through the ancient hall,
And smiles and friendly greetings,
That come from the lips of all.

She trembles in fear and anguish,
And the rosy cheek grows pale,
As she thinks of the one roomed cottage
Down in the mossy vale.

And thus, in the years that are coming,
Deceived one, it must be;
Her heart with the toil worn lover,
And her face and form with thee.

To-night the fairy fingers,
The bursting seed will sow,
That in poisonous thorns and thistles,
Along her path will grow.

And the same white hand must reap them
And gather the harvest in;
And the same sad eyes, must weep then,
O'er the fruits of this night's sin.

IOWA, NEBRASKA, KANSAS, CALIFORNIA.—Advertising alone does not produce success. The thing which is advertised must have intrinsic merit, or else large advertising will eventually do it more harm than good. If you have anything which you know to be good, advertise it thoroughly, and you will be sure to succeed; if it is poor, don't praise it, for people will soon discover you are lying.

Such is the policy of the BURLINGTON ROUTE, which runs to three great regions in the West: 1st, To Omaha, connecting with the great Pacific Roads. 2d, To Lincoln, the capital of Nebraska, and all that beautiful region south of the Platte, filled with R. R. lands and homesteads 3d, To St. Joseph, Kansas City and all Kansas points.

The roads are splendidly built, have the best bridges, finest cars, the Miller platform and coupler, and the safety air brake (to prevent the loss of life that is every where else happening); Pullman's sleepers, Pullman dining cars, large and powerful engines (to make quick time and good connections), and are in a word the best equipped roads in the West. So that if you desire to go safely, surely, quickly and comfortably to any point in Southern Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, or on the Pacific Roads, be sure that you go "By Way of Burlington."

All who wish particular information, and a large map, showing correctly the Great West, and all its railroad connections, can obtain them, and any other knowledge, by addressing General Passenger Agent, B. & Mo. R. R. R., Burlington, Iowa. 14-3m.

To the Citizens of Centre County and Elsewhere.

Your attention is particularly requested to the following certificate referring to those old established remedies, "HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS," and "HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC," from that well known citizen,

IRA C. MITCHELL, ESQ.:

"BELLEFONTE, PA., Oct. 27, 187

Sir:—I have just had the pleasure of meeting your Agent, the first representative of "Hoofland's German Bitters" and "Hoofland's German Tonic," it has ever been my good fortune to meet. For many year I have been purchasing and using them to the great comfort of myself, family and friends, having commenced their use on the recommendations of the Supreme Court Judges of this State. It affords me pleasure to have the opportunity to voluntarily recommend the same to all of my friends and acquaintances who may be suffering from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Billiousness or affections of the Liver, of kind.

Very Respectfully,
IRA C. MITHELL"

These edicines are and have been well known to the community for the last twenty-five years, as genuine, reliable and deserving remedies for the diseases mentioned in the above certificate. Those afflicted should not fail to use them. Sold by all Druggists. C. M. EVANS, Proprietor, 631, Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 3-50-1y

CAUTION.—The public are respectfully cautioned against purchasing watches purporting to be of Elgin manufacture from parties not known to them, as reliable and responsible dealers.

The Excellence and good repute of the real Elgin Watches, has caused Foreign and American manufacturers to make inferior imitations, with the same or similar trade-marks as ours. These watches are being placed upon the market by unscrupulous traders, and in many cases by dealers who advertise American Watches at low prices, and make their profit by supplying, when considered safe to do so, the imitation movement. Avoid dealers who advertise cheap goods and sales upon the C. O. D. plan.

Demand in all cases the certificate of the National Watch Company, signed by T. M. Avery, President, as to genuineness of the watch purchased.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A CARD.—We take this method of saying that there is no truth in the reports that have been circulated, "that we intend quitting the coal business as soon as our present supply is sold out." On the contrary we have on hands now and intend to keep on hand a well selected stock of the best Anthracite coal in the market.

DOCTOR, WHAT IS IT?

Is a question frequently asked by a patient who, though perhaps not sick enough to be confined to his room or bed, nevertheless feels himself physically unable to attend to his usual avocations.

There is a failing or general breaking down of the system, but no symptoms sufficiently marked to be classed as a disease, yet peculiarly trying to the suffer. The feelings cannot be expressed—Doctors don't understand it; they may prescribe hopefully, yet blindly, and without result. MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS is the best Remedy for these nameless disorders. TRY IT AND BE CONVINCED! Sold by all Druggists. Price One Dollar per Bottle.
